

Richmond Heights Community Overview

Richmond Heights (44143) is a small, welcoming suburb known for its strong community spirit, well-maintained parks, and convenient access to Cleveland. The city blends quiet residential living with unique local features like the Cuyahoga County Airport and historic Greenwood Farm. Its mix of green space, local amenities, and community events makes it an appealing place for families and long-term residents.